

s-genitive

Underline the s-genitive in the sentences.

Jenny and Ben's mum work in a hospital.

It's very cold outside.

Tom's and Mike's bedrooms are on the second floor.

Jenny has got fifteen books in her room.

This is the child's dolly.

Do you know the boys' names?

Jenny is James's aunt.

She's three years old.

Put in the s-genitive.

The dog's name is Bello.

Jenny's and Sally's bikes are new.

Grandma's house is old.

The children's school bus is late.

Charles' (Charles's) father works as a mechanic.

The girl's shoes are dirty.

Mr Miller is Jenny and Tom's teacher.

Write sentences with the s-genitive.

Jenny: My parents are from Germany.

Jenny's parents are from Germany.

My grandparents: Their house is old.

My grandparents' house is old.

Tom and Ben: They both have got a blue bike.

Tom's and Ben's bikes are blue.

The boy: The computer needs an update.

The boy's computer needs an update.

The children: Their books are on the bed.

The children's books are on the bed.